(b)(6) SSgt USCENTCOM/CCJ3-R-PM

From: Network Operations Center (CENTCOM)
Sent: Thursday, December 13, 2007 2:40 PM
Subject: Understanding Jihad-The Enemy Perspective

CENTCOM Senior Lecture Series hosts a presentation on "Understanding Jihad-The Enemy Perspective" for USCENTCOM Military members and DoD civilians. The presentation will be given by Mr. (b)(6) , CCJ2 Plans Red Team. The lecture will be held at the Base Theater on Monday, 17 December 2007, at 1300. As this is during normal duty hours, supervisory approval to attend is required. A question and answer session with Mr. (b)(6) will follow the presentation.

This presentation provides a personal and dramatic perspective of the jihad obligation using a solid core of original Islamic source materials; the Qur'an, the Hadith, and Islamic law. The presentation is provided in the first person with Mr. (b)(6) role playing a committed jihadist who stringently and uncompromisingly defends his actions in the face of all detractors. Very effectively brings to light the real complexities and difficulties to be encountered in the West's efforts to "un-do" radical Islam.