to open him. I told Someone to hand me my ot bag and pulled a 7.0 ETT tube and inserted it for a more Secure airway. Throughout this I told [redacted] that we needed to evac quickly I can't recall if I said "Medevac" or "Casevac" but he tried but could not reach Dustoff, I hadn't intended on Air evac because of the delay in treatment, but the terms are confusing and often misused. At this point the pt stopped breathing and had a fixed state of dilated pupils. I thought I could discern a faint slow pulse, and might still be able to save him. I gave two breaths noted a rise & fall of the chest, I had placed my pulseox (a device for monitoring pulse & O_2 levels) on the pts finger but it had no reading nor did the pt ever have a radial (wrist) pulse. At this point I couldn't find a Carotid pulse and started compressions and had a bystander give breaths, I did two cycles (two min) of CPR (about 30 compressions to 2 breaths ratio-30:2) & said "we have the truck ready" I loaded the pt on the litter with assistance from the people around strapped the pt down and we loaded him into the back of an HH-60 this was cumbersome and the door wouldn't close because of the litter length. The total time on scene was 7-12 min. we left the site I was straddling the pt with a knee on the litter and the other on the warlock, I had my right hand on the turret ring and my left on the litter by the pts head. about 2/3's the way into the trip the door struck a barrier, and broke the litter pole, My arm prevented the door from hitting the pts but it received only a light impact. on the evac I thought I could discern a faint pulse but wasn't sure because of the vibrations from the truck we arrived at [redacted] and I transfered the pt to [redacted]. I was outside when one of the docs told me Anderson was dead. Evac time about 15-20 min.

instructed to indicate by still remaining focus on the vehicle coming at us at a high rate of speed. The reason why I did not give permission to fire is could have been to late. I [redacted] and did not [redacted] give permission to fire by the time I did that the vehicle could have been through the cones and past the soldiers. The incident happen so fast to give the order to fire. I would have had him to give the order if that vehicle couldn't have slow down the check point like it did. So I must had relience to give orders of fire to the soldiers on my person of the TCP.
